ADIEU MY FAIR

A favorite Ballad

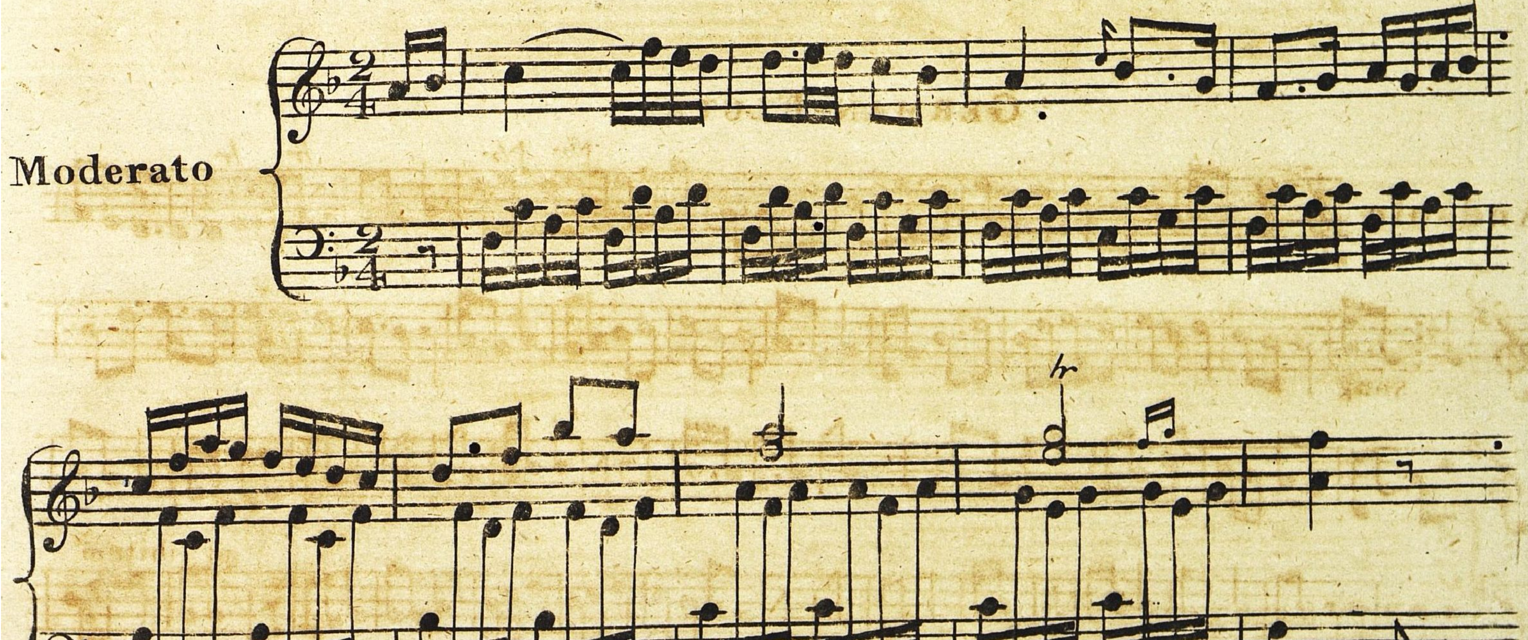
Composed by

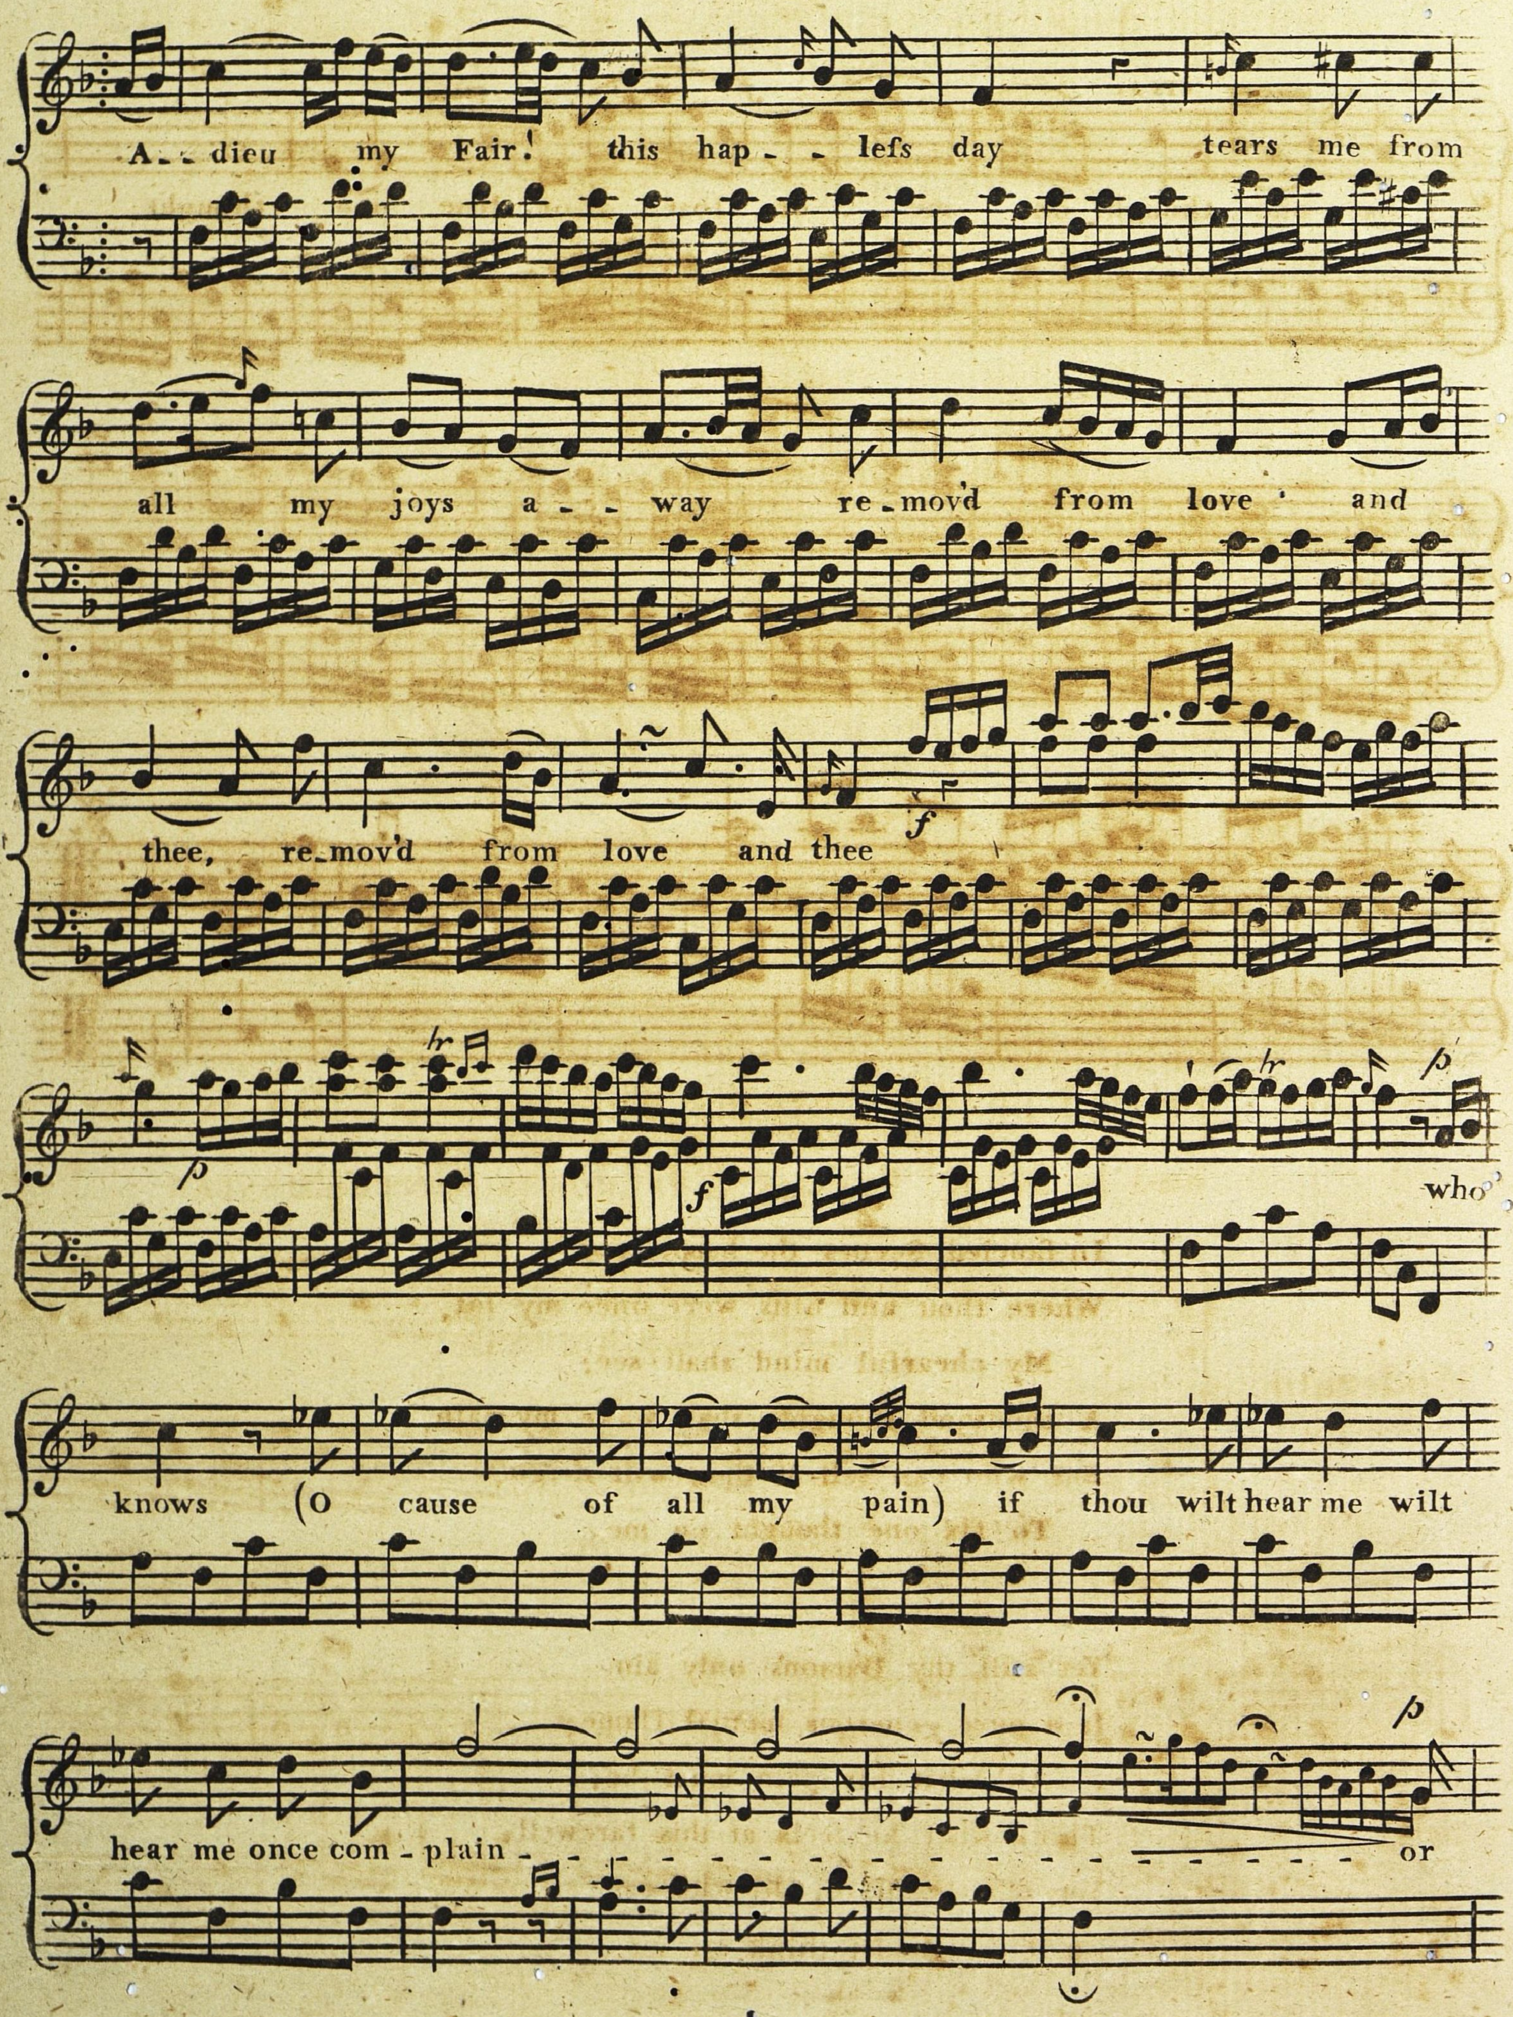
E. Bailey

Entered at Stationer's Hall

Price 1.s

LONDON. Printed by BRODERIP and WILKINSON No. 13 HAYMARKET.
and by Richd. TAYLOR WATERGATE Street CHESTER.





A - dieu my Fair! this hap - lefs day tears me from all my joys a - way re - movd from love and thee, re - movd from love and thee who knows (O cause of all my pain) if thou wilt hear me wilt hear me once com - plain - or

2

In fancied Scenes the happy spot,
Where thou and bliſs were once my lot,
My chearful mind shall see;
A thousand thoughts shall wake my pain,
But who can tell if thou wilt deign,
To fix one thought on me.

3

Yet still thy Damon's only aim
Is a pure, generous, mutual flame, Ah! what his pain must be;
Think what he feels at this farewell,
Yet, dearest Maid, ah! who can tell
If e'er thou'lt think on me